TO THE MEMBERS OF THE CONGREGATION.

My Dear Friends:

I do most earnestly and affectionately invite your interest in and attendance upon our Lenten services; let us avail ourselves of these means that are offered, and strive to improve the sacred season.

Your Sincere Friend,

To the Congregation of the Church of the Holy Apostles.

DEAR FRIENDS :

It is earnestly desired that this sacred season on which we have again been permitted to enter may be a time of rich blessing to all of us. Remember, then, at the outset, that the main object of the Church in giving us this season is, to present Christ to us more distinctly as a Tempted and Suffering Saviour, that so we may be led to become more like Him in heart and life. Strive to keep that end in view in the use of every means of grace, otherwise our services may become servile formalism or mere will worship.

Hear the call of Christ's example to walk with Him daily in the resistance of temptation and the discovery of duty. Forty days like forty steps lead you to share more deeply in the Lord's dying and rising again. Come near, then, and desire of God that utter self-abandonment and cleanness from secret and open sin which Christ has made possible. Seek a blessing by casting down the barriers of personal vanity, and, meekly receiving the thrusts of the Spirit's sword, allow self to be slain, that Christ may live in you. Let your heart's desire include the salvation of your fellow-creatures, remembering your liability to hinder and your power to help them by word and example.

Avail yourselves of the opportunities of this Holy Season. Form a plan and adhere to it. Make some sacrifice of your time and means to God. Attend the frequent services of the Church. Honor Christ by your presence at the Holy Communion. Let the home-life be full of the Spirit of this holy time. Seek for occasions of voluntary self-denial. By private prayer, by thoughtful reading, by meditation, by honest self-examination, prepare your hearts to receive the gracious influences of a "Lent, well spent."

The Lenten assembly is a school for the sons and daughters of God to train one another as children of one family, where one is taught of all. The educating power of the Church is in a face-to-face walk as brethren in love unfeigned. If any is weak, here he may find the strong. If any is overtaken in a fault, he is restored in the spirit of meekness. If any work is to be done, a hundred shoulders are put to the wheel. Let us measure our nearness to God by the drawing of our hearts to one another in these Lenten prayers. God the Father show you His will. God the Son forgive your sins. God the Holy Ghost grant you to devise liberal things, for by liberal things you shall stand.

Your Friend and Rector,

CHARLES D. COOPER.

Collect for the Season.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God,
 who hatest nothing that thou hast made, and dost forgive the sins of all those who are penitent; Create and make in us new and contrite hearts, that we worthily lamenting our sins, and acknowledging our wretchedness, may obtain of thee,
 the God of all mercy, perfect remission and forgiveness; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Lent

Lent is a testing time of the reality of our professions in the Christian religion. The Church quite deliberately makes religion hard for that period. She is much too wise about life to insist that all the year shall be a Lent, but she is also wise enough to know that some discipline is necessary for the strengthening of character. So for a definite time, forty days, she sets before us the example of our Lord in the wilderness, striving, struggling, suffering to win life's supreme challenge and victory.

Lent

Life is a beautiful thing, and men and women are good, and children are lovely, most of the time. Think that over for a moment, and you will see how overwhelmingly it is true of all you know about life.

But, of course, there are some bad men and women, and some atrocious children in the world, and even in ourselves there are some bad moments, and some weak spots.

It is to strengthen the good and prevent the bad that we have a season of Lent, when we can concentrate on the problem of good and evil, study it in all of its significance, and determine what should be done about it.

Of course, if we are satisfied with ourselves as we are, and do not care to improve, we will pay no attention to Lent. If, however, we are thoughtful and careful about ourselves, we will want to improve, and we will use Lent as a wise means to that end.
